This newsletter provides a brief progress update on the construction of the new school building at 261 Hale Lane. Overall, construction is going well despite recent weather conditions.

The original school and shul buildings have been demolished and the whole site cleared of rubble.

The whole site has been flattened and the playground area laid with stones and drainage channels.

Despite heavy snowfall in December, 120 pile foundations were dug 20m below ground level on which the foundations will sit. Foundations are currently being built. A steel frame will be constructed on these foundations to reinforce the building.

The building work is planned to finish by end-2011 and EJPS is expected to return to Edgware between January and April 2012.
